THE JUDY CHICAGO ART EDUCATION AWARD

Funded by MaryRoss Taylor

CALL FOR ENTRY

"I have devoted my life to trying to end the ongoing erasure of women's achievements through my art; I have left a path in my archives which is why they provide a way to BUILD on our history rather than repeat it." Judy Chicago

The Judy Chicago Art Education Award, funded by MaryRoss Taylor, was established in 2011 by Through the Flower in collaboration with Penn State School of Visual Arts, to support projects by educators, artists, scholars that use the Judy Chicago materials found at any of the institutions comprising the Judy Chicago Portal with an annually awarded cash prize and certificate.

The Judy Chicago Portal brings together the Judy Chicago archives collectively housed at:

- Penn State University Libraries, Eberly Family Special Collections Library, which houses the Judy Chicago Art Education Collection and the K-12 "Dinner Party" Curriculum Project.
- The National Museum of Women in the Arts, Betty Boyd Dettre Library and Research Center, home of the Judy Chicago Visual Archive.
- Harvard University's Arthur and Elizabeth Schlesinger Library on the History of Women in America where Judy Chicago's paper archives are found

Criteria: Applicants must show evidence of primary research or teaching projects related to one of these three archives. Projects should encompass feminist goals such as understanding and appreciation for the achievements of women; gender equity/justice; or use of Judy Chicago's Participatory Art Pedagogy. The applicant's project must also include a public presentation such as a lecture, publication, or class activity.

Application details and past award winning projects can be found online at <https://judychicago.arted.psu.edu/award/>. This year's prize of $2500 and certificate will be presented at the Through the Flower Art Space in Belen, NM.

Award submission will be accepted online only until midnight on 6/1/21.

Internships and travel grants that may be used to explore the Judy Chicago collections are available from the three participating institutions; NMWA internships, Schlesinger travel grants, and Penn State travel grants.
